A Piece of Literature

THE DELIVERANCE

A Romance of the Virginia Tobacco Fields

By ELLEN GLASGOW

THE DELIVERANCE is a picture of life done on a large canvas. The scene is in Virginia; the time during the last twenty years; the characters are persons of the war period and of the present generation. The story is a large and serious one, lighted everywhere by humor. It is a novel of large scope and of very original plot—a stirring tale of the development of a soul and a piece of literature of distinction both in conception and in style.

By the author of "The Battle-Ground" and "The Voice of the People"

Illustrated in color by SCHOONOVER. $1.50

Doubleday, Page & Co., 34 Union Square
New York City

Publishers' Trade List Annual

for 1903 comprises the lists of upwards of three hundred publishers—over eighty lists more than the work has before contained—which greatly enhances its value to the bookseller as an inexpensive work of reference for books in print.

Trade List Annual, 1 vol., over 5000 p., 8vo, cl., $2

INDEXES

We have now ready a supplement to the Index volume of last year which includes (1) the titles of the books of those publishers we were not represented in last year's Catalogues volume; (2) the titles of the new books published since the issue of last year's Trade List Annual by the publishers represented in the 1902 and 1903 volumes; and (3) the titles which were reported too late for insertion in last year's Index volume, as well as corrections, etc.

Supplementary Index, 1 vol., 284 p., 8vo, cl., $2.50

Only enough copies of the Supplementary Index will be printed to supply the demand from those who purchased last year's INDEX, and to bind up with the small number of the remaining copies of last year's INDEX, into a comprehensive volume of 1400 octavo pages

Combined Index, 1902-'03, 1 vol., 1400 p., 8vo, cl., $6

The prices in every case are net, and do not include carriage. Directions for enclosure delivery in New York should accompany the order, unless shipment is to be by express at the charge of the subscriber. Copies of the Index volumes sent on approval. Address

NOTES IN SEASON.

CHARLES E. GOODSPEED, 5 Park Street, Boston, has just ready an interesting volume on "The Poet Gray as a Naturalist," by Professor Charles Eliot Norton, with selections from Gray's notes on his copy of Linnæus's "Systema Naturæ," and facsimiles of some of his drawings.

THE MACMILLAN COMPANY will publish next month a new novel by Eden Phillpotts, entitled "The American Prisoner." They have in preparation "The Divine Vision," a volume of lyrics by a poet connected with the new Irish school of literature who signs himself "AE."

D. APPLETON & Co. announce that they will not be able to bring out Herbert Spencer's autobiography until next spring; indeed it may possibly be delayed until the fall. They will publish Sir Philip Burne-Jones's book on America, "Dollars and Democracy," next month.

L. C. PAGE & Co. will publish next month a new edition of Annie Fellows Johnston's famous book for young people, "The Little Colonel's House Party," uniform in style and price with "The Little Colonel's Holidays," with a striking cover design by Amy M. Sacker. The old $1 edition is out of print and will not be re-issued.

HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN & Co. will publish next February a new edition of Dr. William Hand Browne's "Maryland" in the American Commonwealths series. An interesting feature of this new version is the Calvert pedigree now first printed accurately. It gives the descent of all the Lords of Baltimore. The history of Maryland is brought down from the adoption of the Constitution to the end of the Civil War.

J. B. LIPPINCOTT COMPANY have just ready a second edition of Arthur J. Eddy's "Recollections and Impressions of James A. McNeill Whistler." They are rapidly preparing for the issue of the third and final volume of "Chambers's Cyclopædia of English Literature," whose publication, expected this fall, has been delayed by work upon American literature which is to form a feature of the forthcoming volume.

DOUBLEDAY, PAGE & Co. will publish January 15 a new novel by Ellen Glasgow, the author of "The Battle-Ground," etc., entitled "The Deliverance." The scene of the story is laid in Virginia, the time is during the last twenty years, and the characters are persons of the war period and of the present generation. Though the story is a serious one, it is lighted everywhere by humor. Frank Schoonover has made a number of illustrations in color for the story.

JOHN LANE will publish shortly a new illustrated edition of "The Defence of Guenevere," by William Morris, with title-page, cover design and upwards of fifty drawings by Miss Jessie M. King, whose work has recently created a wave of kindly appreciation from critics of illustrators of the new school. Mr. Lane is bringing out a series of volumes under the title of The Crown Library, carefully edited and printed and illustrated wherever practicable by original designs or reproductions from prints or paintings according to the particular subject dealt with. Four volumes are announced, namely, White's "Natural History of Selborne," edited by Grant Allen, with illustrations by Edmund H. New; Walton's "The Compleat Angler," edited by Le Gallienne, also illustrated by Mr. New; "Memoirs of Mademoiselle des Écherolles," translated by Clothilde Balfour, with portraits and other illustrations; also, "Memoirs of Lady Fanshawe," wife of the Rt. Hon. Sir Richard Fanshawe, ambassador from Charles II. to the court of Madrid, written by herself, to which are added extracts from the correspondence of Sir Richard Fanshawe, edited by Beatrice Marshall, with portraits, etc.

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.

The prices of net books published under the rules of the American Publishers' Association are preceded in this list by a double asterisk **, and the word net follows the price. The prices of fiction (not net) published under the rules are preceded by a dagger †. The prices of net books not covered by the rules, whether published by members of the American Publishers' Association or not, are preceded by a single asterisk, and the word net follows the price.

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. c. after the date indicates that the book is copyrighted; if the copyright date differs from the imprint date, the year of copyright is added. Books of foreign origin of which the edition (annotated, illus. rated, etc.) is entered as copyright, are marked c. ed.; translations, c. tr.; n. p., in place of price, indicates that the publisher makes no price, either net or retail, and quotes prices to the trade only upon application.

Sizes are designated as follows: F. (folio: over 30 centimeters high); Q. (4to: under 30 cm.); O. (8vo: 25 cm.); D. (12mo: 20 cm.); S. (16mo: 17½ cm.); T. (24mo: 15 cm.); Tl. (32mo: 12½ cm.); Fe. 48mo: 10 cm.). Sq., obl., nar., designate square, oblong, narrow books of these heights.

This series is to be composed of four books suitable for readers for the primary grades. This first book relates to "the age of fear," when every man's hand was against his fellowman. Beginning with the first people we know anything about, it tells how they lived before they had fire, how they worked before they had tools, what wild beasts lived then, how the tree-dwellers lived and taught their children, how they made tools and weapons, baskets, ornaments, etc. The aim of the series is to teach the child practical activity.

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

DECEMBER 26, 1903.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications. All matter, whether for the reading-matter columns or advertising pages, should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

"I hold every man a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help and an ornament thereunto."—LORD BACON.

POSTAL CLASSIFICATION AND RATES.

"FIRST-CLASS" postal matter now includes "postal cards," (and "post cards," as the department calls private mailing cards,) at one cent each, "drop-letters" dropped in a non-delivery office, (and involving no transportation charges,) at one cent each, and all other letters at two cents per ounce. The two-cent rate is the equivalent of English penny postage, (though this covers four ounces,) and is the usual domestic rate in all advanced postal countries. The plan for one-cent (mis-called "penny") postage, is one feature of Mr. Ketcham's House Bill No. 17,500, introduced "by request" February 23, 1903, at the last session of Congress, and to be reintroduced in the present session, and is opposed by the Post Office Department, the Third Assistant Postmaster-General in his report for 1902 estimating that it would result in 24 per cent. loss of "first-class" receipts, or approximately $20,000,000. It is not to be overlooked that in this country the post office deals with thousands of miles where the English domestic service deals with hundreds only, and a demand for half the English rate for many times the average distance seems at least premature. It is true that the great triumph of the modern postal system was the introduction of cheap postage in England, in 1840, by Sir Rowland Hill, and our own post office service has recognized the beneficial effect of the reduction from three cents a half ounce to two cents an ounce. The Postmaster-General proposes to apply the principle by negotiating with England, Germany and France for a reduction of the present five-cent rate on foreign letters.

"Second-class" mail matter now includes newspapers to non-delivery offices within the county of publication, mailed free; periodical publications mailed in bulk by publishers and news agents at one cent a pound—except that for local delivery by carriers through the post office of publication "newspapers other than weeklies" must be prepaid by stamps at one cent each, without regard to weight, (weeklies going at bulk rate,) and other periodicals at one cent each up to two ounces, and two cents each if over two ounces; and "transient" periodicals mailed individually by the public at one cent for four ounces. The present bulk system was a feature in the Act of March 3, 1879, (resulting from the Postal Conference at New York, reported in THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY of January 12 and February 2, 1878,) and has successfully served its purpose of avoiding waste of time and expense both to publishers and to the postal service in separately handling wholesale mail shipments. But the reduction in 1886 from two cents to one cent per pound has been followed by a system of restriction and espionage upon periodical publishers, which has worked harm on both sides. The Postmaster-General has committed himself in favor of a plan, which is also a feature of Mr. Ketcham's bill, dividing the present "second-class" bulk matter into two sub-classes: the first sub-class embracing all daily, tri-weekly, semi-weekly and weekly newspapers "published for the dissemination of information of a public character," on which the one-cent rate is retained; the second sub-class embracing "all other periodical publications published as frequently as four times a year," on which the rate is made four cents per pound or fraction thereof. The second class is already a confusion which would be worse confounded by this modification. A more practical and sensible change might be to sweep away the present complicated distinctions—including free mailing of county publications, for which there is no longer real reason—and provide for a one-cent bulk rate on registered periodicals addressed to regular paid subscribers and properly sorted, and for perhaps a four-cent per pound rate (one cent for four ounces) on periodicals otherwise mailed, and on books, permitting publishers, dealers and libraries to mail in bulk without individual stamps.

"Third-class" matter now includes "other printed matter," at one cent for two ounces, or eight cents per pound; and "fourth-class" matter now includes all otherailable matter, at one cent per ounce, or sixteen cents per pound, except that seeds, plants, etc., may be mailed at the third-class rate. The Postmaster-General approves a recommendation of department officials that third- and fourth-class matter be merged into one class at one cent for two ounces, or eight cents per pound.

The Postal Progress League, as recently reorganized with Colonel Albert A. Pope, of bicycle fame, as its chairman, opposes any increase of rates or reduction of facilities, and supports a bill originally prepared by Mr. James L. Cowles, the originator and Secretary of the League, author of "A General Freight and Passenger Post" (Putnam) and an apostle of government ownership and operation of railways and railway trains as post roads and post wagons. This bill provides for the establishment of a parcel post for printed matter and general merchandise packages up to a limit of 11 pounds weight,  $3\frac{1}{2}$  feet length, and 2 cubic feet space, at a rate of one cent for each three ounces up to 12 ounces, of five cents for a first pound and two cents for each additional pound, making the rate on a 11-pound parcel 25 cents. The plan provides also for free collection and delivery up to the weight limit where there is a wagon or car delivery service, and limited to five pounds where there is only a foot service. It includes also insurance up to \$10 on all mail matter without extra charge, and for registration and insurance to full value at five cents for a first \$25 and two cents for each additional \$50. The Society of American Authors advocates lower rates for authors' manuscripts, which are now carried as "second-class" when they accompany printers' proofs, but are required to pay letter rates when originally sent to or returned by a publisher. These might properly be included with printed matter or in the parcels post.

In discussing a parcels post, the transportation cost for distances exceeding 1000 miles must fairly be reckoned with, at least for parcels over a unit of one, two or four pounds weight. It may be suggested that the "standard time" sections, approximately 1000 miles wide, furnish natural zones, and that to a single rate within one zone or between two zones there might be added a 50 per cent. additional rate from one zone to a third, and a double rate from one zone to a fourth. Thus a single rate of one cent for two ounces up to eight cents for a pound might insure free delivery anywhere in the United States; while above the unit weight a parcel might be delivered from post office to post office, from Boston or New York to Chicago or St. Louis, at eight cents, to Denver at twelve cents, and to San Francisco at sixteen cents per pound—establishing a true parcels post within the present lines of the postal service, and permitting doubtless considerable reduction of rates and betterment of methods in the immediate future.

WORK OF PERMANENT OFFICE OF INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS OF PUBLISHERS.

THE Permanent Office of the International Congress of Publishers, at Berne, Switzerland, reports that since March last Denmark has joined the Union, and Sweden promises to join, so that the three Scandinavian countries will then all participate in the Berne Convention.

At the request of the Asociacion de la Libreria, at Madrid, Spain, steps were taken to induce Mexico to join the Berne Convention, a movement that resulted in the execution of a new copyright treaty between Mexico and Spain, that was signed March 28 of the present year.

At the request of the Verein der deutschen Musikalienhändler at Leipzig, the Permanent Office petitioned the associations of publishers of music in Austria, Belgium, England, France, Germany and Italy to apply for the support of their governments to assist in the suppressing of literary piracy, especially the unlawful reprinting of copyright music, in Egypt, Roumania, Greece and the Netherlands.

The application of the metric system to designating the sizes of books has been recommended by the local associations in Holland, Norway, Sweden, Spain and Switzerland. In other countries an ever-increasing number of publishing firms is adopting the metric system.

The resolutions relating to "overs" in printing, greater care in packing, the use of the word "edition," the substitution of "over-plus sheets" and the replacing of the numbers of a serial work, do not seem to have received general consideration, judging from the few replies received by the Office on those questions.

The question of maintaining the published prices of books, on the other hand, seems to be receiving attention in all the countries represented in the Congress, and the reports of improved conditions are most assuring.

The Permanent Office is considering the question of forming professional schools for booksellers, similar to those in Leipzig and Milan, and solicits an expression of opinion from its members.

More satisfactory relations between publishers and the daily press are desirable, and efforts are being made to secure the co-operation of the press in providing trustworthy literary intelligence.

Three subjects likely to command general attention at the next Congress, to be held at Milan in 1905, will be the maintaining of the published price, the encouraging of better trained help, and more thorough and absolutely unbiassed literary criticism, as upon the solution of these questions depend, to a large extent, the healthy development and the success of the booktrade.

THE LONDON TIMES'S EXPLOITATION OF THE ENCYCLOPÆDIA BRITANNICA.

AFTER expending an immense sum of money in advertising the sale of the "Encyclopædia Britannica" on the instalment plan, the syndicate that operated under the name of the London Times on December 19 closed the biggest advertising scheme ever run in the British press. During the last week of its exploitation orders for 500 sets were received. Henceforward the encyclopædia can be purchased only through booksellers. This long series of huge and costly press advertisements, which, exploited as they were under skilled American direction, became quite a feature of English newspaper advertising, and formed an integral portion of British humor, having given birth to jests varying in length from a one-hundred page volume to a two-line paragraph; indeed, for a time no after-dinner speech was complete without some reference thereto.

POSTAL MATTERS.

A MASS meeting of the California Postal Progress League will be held at San Francisco, January 14, to recommend measures to extend parcels post service. The annual meeting of the Postal Progress League will be held in Boston, January 28. A special meeting of the New York section, to protest against the appointment of Mr. Loud to represent the United States as delegate to the World's Postal Congress to be held in Rome next year, will be held in New York City January 14. The secretary, James L. Cowles, at 21 Park Row, room 2314A, will be pleased to communicate with all who may be interested in the work of the League.

BOOKTRADE ASSOCIATIONS.

THE annual meeting of the Stationers' Board of Trade will be held at its rooms at Nassau and Ann Streets, New York, on January 5. A full attendance is looked for.

THE B. C. T., as already announced, will give its annual dinner at the Hotel Marlborough on Tuesday evening, December 29. Tickets at $5 each may be obtained from John Hovendon, the secretary, at 156 Fifth Avenue.

THE NEWSDEALERS' ASSOCIATION OF ALBANY, N. Y., on December 12 elected the following officers: Adolph Picard, president; Van Valkenburgh, vice-president; John J. Griffin, recording secretary; Fred. A. Weiss, financial secretary; P. I. Agnus, treasurer; P. Degen, sergeant-at-arms; H. Heyman, Thomas Lakey and L. A. Baldwin, trustees. The association has a membership of fifty.

OBITUARY NOTES.

GEORGE J. BURGHARDT, for nearly ten years traveller for E. P. Dutton & Co. in New England and Canada, died after an illness of nineteen months at his home, 1032 Hudson Street, Hoboken, N. J., aged forty-three.

JOHN R. RUNYON, the oldest bookseller of Morristown, N. J., died December 7. Mr. Runyon was born at Gatestown, near Bound Brook, N. J., October 30, 1827. In 1845 he went to Morristown and taught school there until 1851, when he bought out Nichols's bookstore, to which he gave his personal attention until within four days of his death. Mr. Runyon was always progressive and enterprising, and years ago took an active part in the war on underselling. Of late years, owing to trouble with his throat, he was unable to take so active a public part in trade matters as in former years, though he was heartily in sympathy with every move to lead the booktrade back to the high place he deemed it should hold in the ranks of commerce.

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

THE memorial to Sir Walter Besant erected by his "grateful brethren in literature," was unveiled in the crypt of St. Paul's in London on December 11, by Lord Monkswell, the chairman of the London County Council.

SPEED MOSBY, editor of the Cole County Democrat, Jefferson City, Mo., and author of "Ben Blunt," the Missouri political novel, has been discharged from his office as deputy clerk of the Missouri Supreme Court because of his writing this book.

At the Birmingham Assizes, on December 16, the jury awarded to Marie Corelli a farthing damages, each side to pay its own costs, in a libel suit brought by her against The Stratford-on-Avon Herald. The case grew out of the recent controversy in which Miss Corelli opposed the erection of a Carnegie Library on the ground that it involved a desecration of Shakespeare's birthplace. The alleged libel consisted in a statement that Miss Corelli herself desired to erect a library at the same place. Miss Corelli testified on her own behalf for two hours, and emphatically denied that she ever intended to erect a library.

BUSINESS NOTES.

BOSTON, MASS.—The Robinson, Luce Company was organized December 13 under the Massachusetts state laws to conduct a general publishing business. Their headquarters will be at 309 Washington Street.

SANDUSKY, O.—C. Roeder sold his bookstore to Geo. Windisch.

NOTES AND QUERIES.

CAN any one give us word of the family or relatives of the late Charles C. Wells, a New York bookseller?

GEORGE A. CROFUTT is stopping at present at 208 East Madison Street, Chicago. His permanent address is "The Lathrop," Denver, Colo.

JAMES A. DALY.

CAN any one give information of the States Publishing Co., which published a book of the Crossing of the Continent from Oregon to Washington by a Methodist clergyman to intercede for the retention of the territory of Oregon and Washington in the forties?

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

THE LIFE PUBLISHING COMPANY will bring out at once a special edition of "In Merry Measure," a collection of society and humorous verse, by Thomas L. Masson.

THE JEWISH PUBLICATION SOCIETY OF AMERICA, Philadelphia, has just published an attractive edition of the Psalms, translated from the Massoretic text. The volume is a thirty-two, printed on thin paper and bound in flexible leather, forming an attractive gift for the holidays.

Two manuscripts in the magnificent collection of the late Rev. Walter Sneyd of Keele Hall, Staffordshire, sold last week at Sotheby's, sold for $17,250. One of these was an ornately illuminated manuscript nearly seven hundred years old that was bought by Quaritch for £2500; the other was a fine specimen of early Flemish work that was sold for £950.

HENRY HOLT & Co. are about to bring out "The Mark Anniversary Volume," which commemorates the completion of twenty-five years of service by Professor E. L. Mark as teacher of zoölogy at Harvard University. The volume contains twenty-five original articles contributed by Professor Mark's former students, who now hold various positions as teachers and investigators in America and abroad. The articles deal with systematic zoölogy, anatomy and embryology, and give accounts of the field habits and out-door life of many animals. There are thirty-six full-page plates, some of them colored, in the book.

JOHN LANE has just brought out a volume entitled "The Genesis of J. M. W. Turner," with articles on the various fields of Turner's activity, by M. Robert de la Sizeranne, C. F. Bell and Walter Shaw Sparrow, with a representative selection of the drawings, paintings and engravings of Turner. Mr. Lane has also just ready a new volume of poems by William Watson entitled "For England, Poems Written in Estrangement." As Mr. Watson, in his dedication to the Rt. Hon. Leonard Courtney, says, "The verses which occupy the ensuing pages were inspired by the hope of assisting in the promotion of a reasonable human feeling towards those who were our adversaries in the late epical conflict. It is with an abashed sense of the littleness of my service to a great cause that I ask you to let me link them with your name."

THE MACMILLAN COMPANY has just brought out in the Eversley Series two volumes of essays and papers by the late John Richard Green. Mrs. Green has gathered in the volume of "Historical Studies" her husband's work during his life in the East End of London, before the writing of his famous "Short History of the English People." The other volume, the second series of "Stray Studies," includes brief notices of towns, English and foreign, full of the vivid interest with which Mr. Green always pictures their life, articles on the question of the poor and the poor law, and some of Mr. Green's papers in the Saturday Review. There are also some lighter papers which have historical interest because they illustrate the views of English people on certain subjects half a century ago. They have postponed the publication of "The Hour Glass, and Other Poems," by W. B. Yeats, the author of "Ideas of Good and Evil," etc., who is now on a lecture tour in this country. The book will be brought out some time in January.

THE ROBINSON, LUCE COMPANY, a new publishing concern, at 309 Washington Street, Boston, has purchased from the New Hampshire Publishing Corporation the rights and title to "Letters from a Son to His Self-Made Father," by Charles Eustace Merriman, including all the accounts receivable from the sale of the book to date. Hereafter this book will be published and sold in the name of the Robinson, Luce Company, and all orders received in the name of the New Hampshire Publishing Corporation for this book will be billed in the name of the new publishing house. The New Hampshire Publishing Corporation explains the transfer by saying that their preparations for issuing a new monthly magazine to be called Home and State Builder, and their desire to confine their interests otherwise to the publication of subscription books, leaves them without the necessary equipment for handling a book in such popular demand as "Letters from a Son to His Self-Made Father." In consequence of this transfer the New Hampshire Publishing Corporation has given up its Boston offices and they are now occupied by the new publishers. At no time since the "Letters" were published in the first week of December has it been possible to keep up with the orders for the book, which passed the 30,000 mark on December 15, when two editions of 10,000 each were on the press.

THE IMPERIAL PRESS, Cleveland, has just brought out a volume that should be of special interest to publishers, printers and all others interested in the making of good books, entitled "Printing in Relation to Graphic Art." The author, George French, is well known in the printing and publishing world as an authority on all that relates to the printing trade, and this book gives further evidence, if that were needed, that whatever topic he touches he illuminates with information helpful to the tyro and suggestive to the master. His purpose in bringing out his latest book, as stated in the prefatory note, is not "to try to establish a claim for printing that it is an art," but rather to "show that the principles of art may be applied to printing, and that such application may lead to improvement in some essentials of printing." This Mr. French sets forth in eleven chapters on art in composition, pictorial composition, type composition, proportion and the format, color, tone, light and shade, values, paper, style and binding. The book is printed on French hand-made paper and bound according to the specifications of the London Society of Arts. Though no attempt has been made to execute the work in other than the ordinary manner, with ordinary appliances and ordinary workmen, the volume is a credit to the Imperial Press that stands in the front rank of the great printing offices of the country. The edition is limited to 935 numbered copies.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

Under the heading "Books Wanted" book-trade subscribers are given the privilege of a free advertisement for books out of print, of five nonpareil lines exclusive of address, in any issue except special numbers, to an extent not exceeding 100 lines a year. If more than five lines are sent, the excess is at 10 cents a line, and amount should be inclosed. Bids for current books and such as may be easily had from the publishers, and repeated matter, as well as all advertisements from non-subscribers, must be paid for at the rate of 10 cents a line. Under the heading "Books for Sale," the charge to subscribers and non-subscribers is 10 cents a nonpareil line for each insertion. No deduction for repeated matter.

All other small, undisplayed, advertisements will be charged at the uniform rate of 10 cents a nonpareil line. Eight words may be reckoned to the line.

Parties with whom we have no accounts must pay in advance, otherwise no notice will be taken of their communications.

BOOKS WANTED.

In answering, please state edition, condition, and price, including postage or express charges.

Houses that are willing to deal exclusively on a cash-on-delivery basis will find it to their advantage to put after their firm-name the word [Cash].

Write your wants plainly and on one side of the sheet only. Illegibly-written "wants" will be considered as not having been received. The "Publishers' Weekly" does not hold itself responsible for errors.

It should be understood that the appearance of advertisements in this column, or elsewhere in the "Publishers' Weekly" does not furnish a guarantee of credit. While it is endeavored to safeguard these columns by withdrawing the privilege of their use from advertisers who are not "good pay," booksellers should take the usual precaution, as to advertisers not known to them, that they would take in making sales to any unknown parties.
